The golf courses

Golf National

Designed in 1990 by Hubert Chesneau and Robert Von Hagge, the Golf National is the official club of the French Golf Federation (FFG). As well as the annual venue of the French Open it is the training centre for French golf teams and is a candidate for a future Ryder Cup.

The Albatros course is similar to an American links and truly a championship course. The numerous water obstacles and difficult roughs make this course exceptional.

Golf du Racing Club de France, La Boulie

Designed in 1901 by Willie Park, the course of La Boulie was the first course to stage the French Open in 1906 and held the World Amateur Championship in 1994. One of the most prestigious private clubs in France it is extremely competitive having won numerous French National club Championships and has won the European Cup on no less than 3 occasions. This famous club has had several Olympic medalists and World champions in many sports. La Vallée course is typically parkland and very hilly, demanding strong technical skills. Always beautifully maintained, La Boulie boasts some of the best greens in Europe.

Golf de Saint-Cloud

The Golf de Saint-Cloud was the home of the Empress Joséphine, the wife of Emperor Napoleon Bonaparte. The course was designed in 1911 by Harry S Colt to accommodate competitors of the 1924 Olympic Games. It has held the French Open on 14 occasions and the Green (Vert) course is always the venue for the annual French Women's International. Very close to Paris, the club is strictly private members only.

The Green course is a very technical parkland course due to its numerous hills. The course passes through a superb forest of chestnut trees. The Golf de Saint-Cloud was the favourite course of the French Président, François Mitterrand.

Golf de Feucherolles

Just 30 minutes from Paris, the Golf de Feucherolles is laid out amongst 160 acres (65 hectares) of magnificent valleys. Designed by J. M Poellot the course resembles an American course with tremendous undulations that will demand the very best precise and technical skills. Designed with high regard for the local environment, the course, which is largely wooded and punctuated by 5 lakes, blends beautifully with its surroundings. Opened in 1992 the course has reached a maturity which allows it to be classed as one of the most beautiful courses to the west of Paris.

Dear Rotarians

Welcome to 'the City of Light'.

Renowned throughout the world for its beauty, its culture, its beautiful women and its elegance, Paris is the city of dreams!

Each year, over 30 million visitors fall in love with Paris.

The legacy of 2000 years of history can be found in some of the world's most famous monuments. The Arc de Triomphe, Notre-Dame-de-Paris, the Eiffel Tower and the Sacré Cœur are just some of the monuments which symbolise Paris.

Each district, whether chic, Bohemian or fashionable, creates its own particular atmosphere and encourages visitors to take a leisurely stroll and, of course, there is the chance to do some shopping!

The Pullman Hotel at La Défense has been chosen for Rotarians during the IFGR Championship. This magnificent hotel is situated in the business district, just 10 minutes from the centre of Paris. Following a round of golf or a walk in Paris you can return to the comfort of your hotel knowing you can use the Gym, take a Hammam, a Sauna or a relaxing Jacuzzi. You can also do your last minute shopping in the impressive shopping mall, Les Quatre Temps, just a stones throw from the hotel.

To close the week of the Championship, you will participate in a Royal and exceptional evening. The sumptuous Château de Versailles, the Palace built by Louis the XIV and occupied by Louis the XVI at the time of the French Revolution, has agreed to close its gates to the public and to welcome you, as a VIP, to a private viewing of the spectacular 'Grandes Eaux' with the famous water fountains. Following this you will be taken back in time, to another century, for the Gala Dinner in the sumptuous Galerie des Batailles within the Chateau itself. This gallery commemorates French battles from 496AD up to 1809. This will be a truly ROYAL event!

● Paris, here we come!

During 'free time', when golf is not being played, Paris will offer you a huge choice of things to do and places to visit.

The organisers will recommend where to find the very best restaurants which serve renowned French cuisine, famous for its expertise in blending tradition with creativity.

Paris will allow you to soak yourself in emotion with sublime museums such as the Louvre, Orsay, le Palais de Tokyo, the Centre Pompidou and, the latest addition, the museum of Arts Premiers. You could go to the top of the Eiffel Tower to enjoy the sweeping views of Paris but perhaps the most romantic way to see Paris, with its lights, its bridges and its islands is to cruise along the river Seine on a bateau-mouche river boat.

Why not take a stroll through the districts of Montmartre, Notre-Dame-de-Paris and the Ile Saint-Louis and discover the typical Parisian way of life.

Finally, when evening falls, Paris is famous for its shows which are both very chic and somewhat sexy but extremely artistic. The Moulin Rouge, the Crazy Horse Saloon or the Lido are three of the best known shows.

Altogether a huge choice of events which are both cultural, artistic and certainly unforgettable!
